

How to Access Acumen Secure Emails

Acumen, Inc is dedicated to protecting the privacy and security of information we may share about the people we support. As you are aware, email has become the preferred method for communication in today's marketplace. However, email is not a private conversation; unencrypted email messages can be intercepted and read. As such, Acumen, Inc has been utilizing an email encryption service since January 2014.

When we send you a secure, encrypted email communication, you will receive a notification email in your inbox with instructions on how to open the message. When you select "Open Message," you will be directed to a Secure Message Center.
